JACKSONVILLE, ILLINOIS, SUNDAY MORNING, JANUARY 24, 1904

CHICAGO SKY SCRAPER AFIRE

MASONIC TEMPLE HAS NAR- ROW ESCAPE

Heroic Work of Employees Saves the Structure and Lives of the Occupants of the Building— Damage Amounts to $20,000.

Chicago, Jan. 23.—Fire broke out this afternoon in the Masonic temple twenty-story sky scraper, one square east of the Illinois theatre. Owing to the fact upward of 2,000 people occupy offices and stores in the giant structure the fire caused much excitement.

The series of elevators surrounding the rotunda in the center of the building continued to run while smoke and flames issued from windows of the fourth story, where the fire originated. People were removed from the upper floors as rapidly as possible. Great crowds of spectators surrounded the temple, being drawn from the fashionable shopping district of State street and adjoining thoroughfares. The sight of the majestic structure through clouds of smoke and flames was one long to be remembered.

The fire was out within an hour. A number of persons in the employ of R. Friedlander, in whose suite of rooms the fire originated, were slightly injured by flames and smoke. The origin of the fire was caused by an explosion of chemicals.

For a time the fire raged on three floors and there was much excitement among occupants, but everybody escaped by stairways and elevators and some more excited persons by fire escapes. Conductors of elevators did heroic work, running their cars through smoke-laden shafts until every one was out of the building. Loss, $20,000.

The fire is said to have been caused by a lighted match carelessly thrown into a pile of excelsior in a room on the fifth floor. That damage to property and individuals was not greater was probably due to the efficiency of the fire drill of the employees, organized since the Illinois theatre fire. When the great bell at the top of the rotunda sounded the alarm every janitor, engineer and fireman in the building responded and long before the fire department reached the scene the temple fire brigade had attached hose to the standpipes which extend from the basement to the roof of the structure and eight streams of water were turned upon the conflagration by the temple firemen. The fire department used but little of its hose, the building equipment being called into use.

DETECTIVES RELEASED.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 23.—Detectives Hawley, Murphy and Cowen, arrested on charge of manslaughter for killing Joseph and Louis Chiosser, father and son, in this city, Dec. 17, were ordered released to day by Justice Chambers, who exonerated them for the killing.

Joseph Chiosser was wanted in Equality, Ill., on the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. While resisting arrest they were shot and killed by the detectives. An attempt was made to hold the detectives for the shooting on the ground of insufficient warrant for the arrest.

DEAD MAN'S PLUNDER

Son of Wealthy Chicago Man in Possession of Note Taken From Theatre Fire Vic- tim.

Chicago, Jan. 23.—Harry Klawans, son of a wealthy restaurant proprietor, was arrested on charge of having been in possession of plunder taken from the body of Attorney William H. Reid, of Waukegan, Ill., who was burned with his wife in the Illinois theatre fire. What the police assert is convincing evidence is a negotiable note for $1,000 bearing Reid's name and given in payment for Reid's services as assessor for Lake county. This note, along with $66, a gold watch and opal pin, was missing from the attorney's body when it was identified by relatives at the morgue.

Attorney Schwartz, who gave the police the clue which led to Klawans' arrest, says Klawans gave him the note and asked him to "turn it into money" for him, saying a "friend" had given it to him. Schwartz says that as soon as he learned the circumstances he decided to turn the note over to the police and did so. He does not approve of Klawans' arrest, as he believes his story of how he got the note is true.

BERLIN NEWS

Berlin, Jan. 23.—Referring to the government's Polish policy in the diet to day, Count von Buelow said agitation in upper Silesia was evidently intended to prevent Germanization of the population and to foster pan-Polish sentiment. He declared upper Silesia was as essential to Germany's economic development as it would be to her national defense in event of foreign complications and that the pemeating of Germany's thickly populated frontier land with the idea of a greater Poland constituted a grave danger. The government, the chancellor continued, will be compelled to adopt as vigorous measures in upper Silesia as it had done in Posen and Westphalia and would do everything in its power to make Silesia a German country.

Announcement was made to day that King Leopold of Belgium is coming to Berlin Jan. 27 on the occasion of Emperor William's birthday. It is said there is a political object in the visit and that the two sovereigns will discuss the Congo affair.

The trip of the Prussian minister of finance, Von Rheinbaben, to the United States last June was the subject of various allusions in the diet. Herr Bachem, clerical, having criticised the minister's defense of syndicates, later pointed out the impossibility of judging syndicates according to one formula. All depends, he said, upon the ends of each, adding:

"I should certainly oppose seeing American conditions introduced here. Syndicates exist there in all departments and a man in the street cannot lift his hat without showing his dependence upon trusts."

COREAN CROWN PRINCE.

Washington, Jan. 23.—The Korean minister to night authorized the statement that no attempt was made to conceal the whereabouts of Crown Prince Eulwha. STEAMER WRECKED.

New York, Jan. 23.—The four-masted schooner Augustus Hunt was wrecked off Westhampton, L. I., to day. She will be totally wrecked. The body of a sailor and quantities of wreckage have been washed ashore. The Quoge life-saving crew made an effort to launch boats, but owing to the tremendous sea were unsuccessful. It was impossible to shoot a line over the vessel. It is thought ten or twelve men were on the wreck.

HOUSE CONSUMES THE EN- TIRE DAY.

Only Part of Bill Disposed of Before Adjournment—Army Retirements and Promotions —Capital Notes.

Washington, Jan. 23.—The house devoted the entire day to consideration of the army appropriation bill in committee of the whole. Robinson (Dem., Ind.) took occasion to criticize the war department for expenditures made by the bureau of ordnance and fortifications in connection with the Langley airship, declaring such expenditures were without sanction of congress and that the airship was without utility. Only twelve of the forty-one pages of the bill had been read for amendment when the house adjourned.

The provision of the bill for construction of a submarine cable from Sitka to Fort Lisicum, Alaska, went out on a point of order.

A spirited discussion was precipitated by Hemenway, chairman of the appropriation committee, who proposed limitation on the purchase of books and periodicals for the army. The Dreyfus case, French novels and character of books in the department library were among subjects discussed. The amendment finally prevailed providing for purchase of technical and professional works only.

A resolution calling on the secretary of Resolutions calling on the secretary of the navy for information as to the number of carriages maintained by the government for the use of his department was adopted.

ARMY CHANGES.

This was a red letter day in army history, for it marked the end of the whole-scale program of retirements and promotions incident to reorganization of the army. Three general officers were retired to day—Gen. Wallace Randolph, chief of artillery; C. J. Allen and T. E. True, Brig. Gen. George I. Gillespie, for several years chief of engineers, became major general and chief assistant to Lieutenant General Chaffee. Col. Alexander Mackenzie became brigadier general and also assumed the duty of chief of engineers. Francis S. Dodge became paymaster general, vice Batters, retired. Col. William E. Dougherty becomes brigadier general and retires Sunday, giving place to Col. William S. McCaskey. Col. John P. Story assumed the duties of chief of artillery.

Martha, her youngest daughter and her sons John and Charles are under indictment on a similar charge, but their trials have been postponed until the April term of court.

LETTER CLEARS A MYSTERY

Thomas Burrows, Who Disap- peared from Quincy in 1868, Located in Dying Con- dition in a Hospital in Mexico.

Quincy, Jan. 23.—A letter received by Postmaster Wilcox from a city in Old Mexico clears up the mystery of the disappearance of Thomas Burrows, who left this city thirty-six years ago and who had not been heard of since. The letter states that an old man giving his name as Thomas Burrows and who claimed to have a son in Quincy, asked to have the postmaster locate him. He was in a dying condition in a hospital at the time the letter was written.

The postmaster turned the letter over to Thomas Burrows, an employee of a local bank, who is the only surviving member of the family in this city. An effort will be made to learn the full particulars concerning the aged man.

Thomas Burrows was an employee of the C. & B. Q. railroad in this city at the time of his disappearance in 1868. He had just drawn his month's wages, amounting to $85, when he disappeared as completely as if the earth had swallowed him. He was a member of several societies and these aided the wife in an effort to find him. It was finally agreed by every one that he had been the victim of robbers.

His wife afterward married, but died several years ago. The case was forgotten and brought to mind only by the older inhabitants when the postmaster received the startling letter from Mexico.

HELD CHILD OVER FIRE.

Augusta, Ga., Jan. 23.—County Officer Sherlock to day, acting on information, entered the home of an old white woman, Beta Paschal, on Turpin's hill, and found a 3-year-old child fatally burned, the little one having been held over flames by the woman several days ago for a trifling fault and then gagged to prevent its screams being heard.

The child had been left with the Paschal woman by its mother to be reared. Officer Sherlock found the child lying on a dirty pallet on the floor, moaning in agony. Its burns had received no medical attention the woman merely applying a greased cloth. She will be vigorously prosecuted.

The child's mother, Mrs. Fannie Reynolds, did not display enough interest in the case to visit the patient in the hospital.

DANGER POINT PASSED.

Pittsburg, Jan. 23.—The flood danger at this point has passed. All day long both rivers continued to rise until 5 o'clock this evening. From that hour on the waters have receded. Headwater points of both the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers reports to night show them to be either stationary or falling.

A roundup of damage done in the Pittsburg district demonstrates that actual damage done will not reach the high figures at first given out and will probably not exceed a half million dollars. To this amount, however, must be added the loss to manufacturers and mills through being forced to shut down and workmen through suspended wages, which will run the total close to the million mark. As yet no loss of life has been reported, but suffering in the flooded portions of Pittsburg and Allegheny have been great.

DEMOCRATIC SENATORS

HOLD CONFERENCE ON THE PANAMA QUESTION.

Agree Upon Resolution Asking for All Correspondence Be- tween United and Colombia— Several Will Vote for Treaty.

Washington, Jan. 23.—Democratic senators were in conference almost three hours to day on the Panama question and when they adjourned it was announced the conference had agreed upon resolutions to be presented to the senate asking for all correspondence between the United States and Colombia since the negotiations of the Hay-Herran treaty, also directing the senate committee on foreign relations to inquire into events connected with the Panama revolution.

During the conference there was more or less reference to the merits of the canal treaty and in that connection several senators expressed themselves as very anxious to secure the canal. Some went so far as to say they would vote for the treaty, but all condemned the methods of the administration in connection with the Panama uprising. Senator Money was among those who announced themselves for the treaty. Senator Clay and others expressed themselves as very desirous that an amicable arrangement be secured with Colombia and in this connection hope was expressed that the United States would see its way clear to accept the proposition said to have been made by General Reyes that the United States should pay Colombia $10,000,000.

Among those who spoke in opposition to the treaty were Bailey, Morgan and Tillman. Some speakers who took opposing view sharply criticised those who favor the treaty.

There was no effort to secure a rule for united action on the treaty and the general opinion among the senators was that there will be no such effort unless positive information should be secured showing the complexity of this government in the Panama rebellion.

PANAMA CONVENTION.

Panama, Jan. 23.—After a heated debate on religious questions the constitutional convention adopted an article guaranteeing freedom of worship, but agreeing to provide assistance toward founding a Catholic seminary; also exempting ministers of religion from charges for and employment in public services, civil or military.

THE BEDFORD MURDER

Man Arrested at Crothersville for the Crime—Police Think He is the Guilty One.

Bedford, Ill., Jan. 23.—Authorities believe that in the arrest at Crothersville of a man giving the name of Fred Branham they have the murderer of Miss Sarah Schaefer. His clothes are spotted with blood, his face bears numerous scratches and upon the back of his head are several wounds inflicted by some frail instrument, probably an umbrella. In his pocket was a letter so old it is hardly legible, but on the back is a picture resembling those published of Miss Schaefer.

Branham was arrested for attempting to hold up a saloonkeeper at Crothersville. He asserts his home is in Columbus, Ind., but he has been at Indianapolis several years, and that when arrested he was on his way to Louisville to see his mother and that he has not been in Bedford for a number of years.

The police say they have the testimony of a number of persons who claim to have seen Miss Schaefer in the company of a stranger Thursday evening and allege their description of the man tallies with that of Branham.

Late to night Mayor Smith received word that the man being held by officers at Crothersville is Theodore Branham and has no connection with the murder of Miss Schaefer.

The court of inquiry in progress here since the identification of Miss Sarah Schaefer as the victim of an atrocious murder Thursday night closed its session to night without forming a solution as to the identity of the murderer or an accepted motive for the crime.

Two men have been held as suspects, and in one case, that of Theodore Branham, an alibi has been proved. The only tangible evidence against the man detained at Bloomington is his description and the fact that he was in hiding and resisted arrest.

Search is now being prosecuted for the writer of amysterious letter, supposed to be a girl, wherein are expressed statements that point toward a mutual acquaintance of Miss Schaefer and an unknown man, with whom, it is alleged, she was seen Thursday night. It is believed the discovery of the writer would enable the authorities to apprehend the murderer.

GOVERNOR TAFT

San Francisco, Jan. 23.—Former Governor Taft arrived here this morning on the steamer Korea and left this afternoon on an overland train for Washington.

In an interview with the Associated Press, Taft said conditions in the Philippines were better than ever before and he doubted if greater tranquility ever prevailed, even under the Spanish administration. He said also that the greatest need of the islands, but present indications point to great activity in railroad building there.

"The census will be published in October next," he said, "and on that date, provided the country is tranquil, as at present, the government will authorize the election of an assembly of not less than fifty nor more than one hundred members. This assembly will be a legislative body, co-ordinate with the commission, passing all enactments for the government of the territory. It will be provided, however, that should they fail at any time to pass necessary appropriations, the governor and treasurer will have power to do so. This will give the present Philippine commission two and a half years more in which to complete their arrangements for the government of the islands and enactment of what they consider necessary legislation."

Taft said that at present the Filipinos are of capable of self-government and to make a prediction on the subject would be looking too far into the future.

Charged With Accepting $2,500 From St. Louis Grain Com- pany for Securing Decision in Their Favor by Postoffice De- partment.

St. Louis, Jan. 23.—The federal grand jury to day returned an indictment against United States Senator Burton of Kansas charging him on nine counts with accepting five checks of $500 each from the Hatto Grain and Securities company while senator for alleged services in interceding with postoffice officials to induce them to render a favorable decision in matters affecting permission of the Hatto company to use the mails. Maj. Hugh C. Dennis, president of the company, and W. B. McManey, associated with him, are named in the indictment as the men who made the checks to Burton.

ARRESTS MADE

Chicago, Jan. 23.—Frank Ray, Frank Czepek and Joseph Dolinsky were arrested today. The police accuse them of various misdeeds. Among other crimes, the trio is alleged to have been concerned in the shooting of Mathew Daniels and Otto Loser a week ago, when Daniels, saloon was robbed. Daniels died in a hospital today. Ray attempted to shoot Detective Hamilton, but a quick blow from a brother officer saved him, and the bullet went wild. Ray's companions were in bed when the officers broke into the room. Both drew revolvers, but the onslaught of the detectives was so sudden that they had no time to fire.

OPERA FAD IN PARIS.

Headress of Consonance All the Rage Among Women.

The latest fad for the opera and playhouse is the headress of Consonance, says a Paris dispatch to the New York American. When Wagner is given the women powder their hair with gold and adorn it with oak leaves, because these things harmonize with "Rheingold" and "Gotterdammerung." On other evenings brunettes decorate their hair with wreaths of American Beauty roses, cherries and coral twigs, while blondes select laurel or evergreen leaves, adding small white flowers or silver accents.

At the theaters devoted to classical productions a Desdemona cap is much seen on the heads of pretty women, some of whom add colored precious stones or a white feather egret. When there is on the stage Heida Gable's wine leaves are worn and antique diadems.

Emma Calve appeared the other day with four enormous golden grapes on her black tresses, and the fashion is gaining ground. Two were fastened on both sides of the head in front, two others behind the ears among reddish vine leaves.

Mme. Labori, the pretty American wife of the great lawyer, is often seen evening wearing a little cap of colored velvet incrustated with silver or gold coins.

PRESENT IN A COFFIN.

Grossome Method Used to Remember Popular Manager.

A coffin is not a very pleasant holiday gift, especially when it is presented while resting on a bier with lighted candles, says a Baltimore dispatch, and thus the feelings of the recipient can be imagined when he is told that the coffin contains the remains of a close friend.

Yet this odd method was recently used by some of the employees of a tobacco company at Baltimore in presenting one of the managers with a costly clock.

A few minutes after noon the manager was summoned to a private room, where he beheld what appeared to be a coffin resting on a bier draped with black drapery and lighted candles flickering around the casket in the semi-darkness. He was informed the coffin contained the remains of one he liked very much, and the cover was removed to give him a last look.

As the manager stooped over he saw not the face of a corpse, but a very handsome clock, which the employees had purchased as a gift for him. The presentation was then duly made, and suitable remarks followed.

WAR INEVITABLE

REV. E. R. FULKERSON
TALKS OF SITUATION
IN FAR EAST

Is President of American College in Japan and is Visiting Here
Hostilities May Be Delayed.

Rev. E. R. Fulkerson, president of the American college at Nagasaki, Japan, and for a number of years American vice consul there, is in Jacksonville a guest at the home of J. John W. Melton and will preach at Centenary church this morning. Dr. Fulkerson, who has been stationed in Japan for seventeen years, is in America on a leave of absence. Speaking from his intimate knowledge of conditions as they exist in the Orient, Dr. Fulkerson says that war between Japan and Russia is inevitable. Said Dr. Fulkerson last evening:

NOT CASE FOR ARBITRATION.
"There are two things which make it almost necessary that these two nations shall fight. Russia believes that it is essential to her plan of expansion that she possess Korea. Japan also knows that her independence depends upon her putting an end to the aggressions of Russia in that direction. As a subterfuge to gain time Russia has proposed that Korea be divided into a northern and southern zone of influence, Russia to dominate the northern and Japan the southern division. Russia has no intention of relaxing its design of ultimately possessing the whole of the territory in dispute, but the czar knows that if he can quiet Japan for a few years with such an arrangement Russia will then be strongly entrenched that it will be easy for her to push Japan out of Korea altogether. Japan understands the czar's plan and dares not agree to any plan that will permit Russia getting a hold upon Korea. Under such circumstances arbitration is impossible."

While Dr. Fulkerson did not say so in so many words, he evidently believes that the result of such a war would be disastrous to the mikado's country.

JAPAN'S GREATEST OBSTACLE.
"The great obstacle to Japanese success," he said, "is financial. Japan would doubtless be able to protect her own territory from invasion in case the Russians should try to carry the war away from the mainland. This would mean that all the fighting would have to be on the sea and in Korea or Manchuria and the cost of maintaining for any length of time on foreign soil an army of the size Japan would have to send against the Russians would be enormous and I do not see where the funds for such an undertaking would come from. I believe that when the war does come Russia will play a waiting game and continue the hostilities as long as possible with the design of ultimately bankrupting Japan."

"But Japan has the advantage of having what is undoubtedly the finest navy in the Orient. She has a splendid army. Her soldiers are drilled in modern tactics by efficient officers. The army is armed to the teeth with weapons of the latest design. There are no braver people in the world than the Japanese. They do not know the fear of death. Her soldiers in war with Russia will be inspired by patriotism and will fight to the end and die in the litch. All Japan is dominated by the war spirit. For two or three years the Japanese have felt that the clash must come, and they have been ready and anxious to try conclusions with Russia. Japanese school children, catching the spirit of their parents, arm themselves with wooden guns and form companies and engage in military drills."

PLAYING FOR TIME.
Dr. Fulkerson does not believe that hostilities will begin until next spring.

"Until very recently," said Dr. Fulkerson, "Russia did not believe that Japan would dare to fight. Recently Russia became convinced that war was imminent, and the conviction found her unprepared. Since that time she has been bending every effort to get troops and ships to the far east and every day of delay is advantageous to her. Russia knows now that she must fight Japan and the czar and his advisers are using every subterfuge known to the famous Russian diplomacy to gain time. In the work of moving troops from Europe the Trans-Siberian railroad is a tremendous aid to Russia, but moving troops along that road while parts of Siberia are covered with from six to eight feet of snow is difficult work. Therefore Russia would rather wait until spring."

"Japan knows that Russia is playing for delay and that the best time for Japan to strike is now, but Japan also fears the extreme cold and heavy snows of North ern Korea, where it would be necessary to land troops. The only thing that will precipitate immediate action is for Japan to decide that she will lose more than Russia will gain in delay."

SLAV VS. ANGLO-SAXON.

"The greatest calamity that could befall the Orient," continued Dr. Fulkerson, "would be the subjugation of Japan by Russia. Japan is the strongest factor for civilization in Asia. Wherever Russia goes she kills civilization and shuts the door to the commerce of the world. Just now Japan is the foremost obstacle between Russia and China. All the Orient and most of the rest of the world know that Russia's ultimate design is to absorb China. With Japan out of the way, the United States and England must interpose to stop Russia's advance. With Russia in possession of China all that great empire with its 426,000,000 people will be closed to the commerce of the world. The United States must stand with England to prevent this. America cannot expect to share in the commerce of the world unless she helps to police the world."

"Thinking people see that there is now going on in the world a great struggle for race domination. The struggle is between the Slav race, represented by the Russians, and the Anglo-Saxon. Either the Slav race or the Anglo-Saxon must rule the world. To oppose the Slav there is only the Anglo-Saxon. The Latin nations are dead. Russia, representing the Slavs, has taken Manchuria and is reaching out for Korea. Next she hopes to make China her own and through China to reach India. That is her great objective point and it is there that the great clash must come. If the Slav dominates it means hundreds of years of setback to civilization."

Dr. Fulkerson's work as vice consul was during the Spanish-American war. The American college at Nagasaki, of which Dr. Fulkerson is president, has 200 students and is one of the largest schools in Japan. Dr. Fulkerson's leave of absence is until next September, at which time he expects to return to Japan, unless war prevents, by way of Russia and the Trans-Siberian railroad.

READ THIS.
Jacksonville, Ill., Aug. 24, 1901.—For twelve years I have suffered from sweet diabetes, and have spent hundreds of dollars with various doctors, with but little benefit. I was recommended to try a bottle of Texas Wonder, and I did. It cured me. I will cheerfully testify to the public that it did me more good than all things else put together, and am altogether satisfied. I have persuaded many of my friends to try it.

DORMITORY CONTROL.

In accordance with the plans of President Barnes the affairs of Illinois college dormitory are to be managed by a board of control consisting of two members of the faculty and three students, all residents of the hall. Hereafter no student can secure a room in the dormitory until his case has been passed upon by the board of control. All affairs relative to the keeping and management of the dormitory will be in charge of the board, and thus there will be some features of club management. The board consists of Messrs. Calhoun and Willis, of the faculty, Brockhouse, Cowdin and Conover from the students. The dormitory has recently been improved with hard wood floors and many rooms have been papered and painted anew. IN MEMORY OF MAUDE HACKMAN.

In the death of Anna Maude Hackman a host of sorrowing friends and relatives are brought to the deep grief. Notwithstanding her long illness, her death came as a shock and surprise to all, her cheerfulness and fortitude concealing the seriousness of her sickness. Her suffering was long and at times severe, but through it all she was patient and ever considerate of others. The night she died she begged her mother and sisters to take some rest, which shows her thoughtfulness for others was active to the very last. All who knew her valued her for her cheerful, kind and sympathetic disposition. She was of a firm and decisive character and the close of her earthly life was calm and peaceful. Every care and attention possible was given to the dear girl until the very last. Her sorely bereaved mother, sisters, brother and others are comforted by the thought that through all her sickness all that lay in their power to do was willingly and cheerfully done. And so they sacrificed and hoped on until at last, in His own way and in His own time, the good Father has taken her home. When Maude died a pure, cheerful, hopeful and lovable soul went to live with loved ones and the angels.

"THE CAVALIER." That the managers of "The Cavalier" thoroughly believe in the efficacy of legitimate advertising need not be gainsaid. A hurried glance at the bill boards, store windows and newspapers is sufficient to dispel any doubt conceived upon the subject. Seldom has there been seen here such a lavish display of well executed work as that which now adorns this city, advertising the coming magnificent production of "The Cavalier." The use of printers ink is a most exacting study and no one who caters to public patronage be they professional or mercantile, can afford to ignore this prime factor in the progress of commerce and civilization. Wallace Munro is a master of the art. A word to the wise is sufficient. At the Grand Wednesday, Jan. 27.

Old Friends Are Best

And, therefore, it behooves us to take good care of those invaluable friends—our teeth. A little filling and attention now and then may save them and postpone the necessity for false ones until late in life. False friends are not like the old ones—take warning while there's time.

THE JOURNAL COMPANY,
Jacksonville, Ill.
Bell and Illinois 'Phones: Nos. 64.

The announcement of the candidacy of Charles S. Rannells for the Republican nomination for the office of state treasurer appears in another column of this morning's issue. Mr. Rannells states that he finds the motive for this action in promises of support from a large political acquaintance throughout the state, and it is his purpose to make a thorough canvass. Mr. Rannells' life has been an open book to the people of Morgan county, where he has lived for the greater part of his life, and he is well known throughout the state. He has been a life-long and faithful Republican worker. He served for some years as chairman of the state Republican committee and prior to that time as a member of the executive committee. He was appointed a member of the state board of railroad and warehouse commissioners by Governor Tamm, resigning at the beginning of the term of Governor Yates, by whom he was appointed a member of the world's fair commission, which position he resigned some time later. Mr. Rannells is honest and upright in his personal business and has "all of the qualities necessary to make him a strong candidate" if nominated. Governor Yates is also an aspirant for a second term and it is not to be expected that both gentlemen can get the support of the Morgan county delegation in the state convention and hence the voters will have to decide between the two. Under the circumstances the Journal feels in duty bound to support Governor Yates for renomination with the kindest feeling toward Mr. Rannells, and should the latter receive the nomination in the state convention the Journal's support of him will be cordial, hearty and without any drawback of any kind.

THE LOCAL HEARST BOOM.

A local democrat who is quietly observing things and conditions said he very much feared that the Democratic craft has careened to such an extent that there was serious apprehension of its becoming waterlogged before the national party convention is held. From various political centers indication were that as much of a disposition existed in some quarters to raise hedges as there was a disposition anywhere to conjure with the harmony plan, and that if the condition was not removed within a short period he did not have much hope for united party action on anything the national convention did. Speaking about local conditions the outlook did not appear any brighter. He suggested there was a divided party sentiment as to leadership right here at home. While the Hearst boom had flashed, meteor-like, over this section and state and had apparently snuffed all other booms out of existence, there were yet an appreciable sentiment favorable to both Senator Gorman and Judge Parker, with a Cleveland hue faintly visible at times. The organization of the Hearst club has stirred things up a little, though not altogether pleasantly or satisfactorily, because of the fact that only a comparatively few were "on the ground floor" at the initial meeting when the club organization was decided upon and when all the offices were parceled out among the select few of the few who were on hand. Consequently, says our democratic observer, the meeting of the club last Thursday evening at the court house was scarcely more than a ratification meeting held for the purpose of clinching what the promoters had previously done. Yet there was a hitch in the proceedings, a prominent democrat insisting upon an amendment to the constitution of the club explaining for what purpose the club existed and pledging the members to the support of the presidential nominee of the national convention, whoever that nominee might be. The amendment called a technicality by the persisting officer, was adopted. Others more quietly said they feared the amendment might be considered as a reflection upon the quality of the club's democracy, in that while it would be for Hearst first, last and all the time as the proposed and expected democratic presidential candidate, it might be doubtful what the club would do if Hearst did not win out. This is the amendment.

"To use all honorable means to further and secure the nomination of Hon. William R. Hearst, as the Democratic nominee for president, but the members are pledged to support the candidate named by the democratic national convention." The usual brand of speeches was on tap during the meeting and there was more or less applause of the usual cut and dried description but with the exception of the "business end" of the amendment and the substantially entire absence of enthusiasm when the name of Bryan was mentioned, the meeting had no striking features. It no doubt would have been a disappointment to Mr. Hearst had he been present. "What will it amount to?" is the quiet question among the thinking democrats remarked the observing democrat.

The Furnace Fire.

An expert on the care of a furnace furnishes the following advice: Most furnaces are built for a mixture of egg and stove coal. After a fire is well started and the rooms are sufficiently warm close all doors to the furnace and turn the damper in the smoke flue off one-half. If too warm open the slide in the upper door half way. See that enough coal is on the fire to last for several hours with the furnace arranged as suggested. About 5 o'clock in the afternoon shake the grate and put on coal. Allow it to burn briskly and then shut off as directed. Just before retiring put on four or five shovelfuls of coal, turn the damper three-quarters off and open the slide in the upper door one-half. If the wind is blowing increase the quantity of coal put on and pull out the cooler. The fire will keep well all night.

The Pie Box.

A household convenience which no housewife should be without is a pie box—that is to say, if the pies are made at home and not bought at the bakery ready made. A store box about fifteen inches square is about right for this purpose. Put in six thin shelves. This will then hold seven pies and will save a lot of pantry room.

The pie box may be fastened on a wooden door, or it may be hung on the wall by means of a strong leather strap or merely set on a shelf. In place of the box a frame, covered with netting and fastened to the door or wall, will be found very useful.—Philadelphia Telegram.

Fried Bananas.

A variation in fried bananas for a dessert is to fry them croquette fashion. The skin is removed, and they are cut in two, leaving square ends so they will stand upright. They are then rolled in flour, and fried in hot fat. An excellent sauce to serve with them is a little currant jelly diluted with boiling water and added to it a little shredded candied orange peel. A lemon sauce may be used if preferred. The liking for cooked bananas seems to be a cultivated one, but it is worth while to encourage the taste, for the fruit as a food is wholesome and nutritious.

Stuffed Steak.

After removing the beards from nine to ten oysters poach them for a minute or two in a little stock, being careful not to let it boil. Take rather a thick fillet of steak and make a deep cut in it transversely, as if you were going to split the steak in half. In this opening place the oysters, with a good seasoning of chopped parsley, pepper, salt, etc., and a tablespoonful of bread crumbs. Close up the opening with one or two wooden skewers, grill the steak at once over a clear fire and serve with horseradish sauce and boiled vegetables.

Use good stationery, stationery with character in it that will reflect YOUR good taste and refinement. Such paper as the celebrated Eaton Hurlbut line is above reproach. Let us show you what the world of fashion uses or send you a sample book and a brochure—"Correct stationery and its correct uses." They're both free.

A LITTLE NONSENSE.

How Richard Got His Poetic Inspiration.

"And so," said the old gentleman who was revisiting the scenes of earlier days, "your son Richard has become a literary man and writes poetry too. It seems so odd to think of that harum-scarum boy developing into a man of idealistic temperament. I should never have suspected it. But, I presume, to you, his father, there must have been from the first clear indications of the bent of the boy's mind."

"On the contrary," replied the second old gentleman, "there was not at first the least indication of it. His school books were not, as one would naturally suppose, scribbled full of rhymes. He did not, as Pope did, 'disin numbers.' As a matter of fact, our Richard was as prosaic and practical a boy as one would meet anywhere."

"Indeed!" said the first old gentleman. "But I must confess that to me also he appeared as plain a chap as you have said. Pray, tell me when it was first seen that he possessed this gift."

"It happened thus," went on the father of Richard: "About the first time we noticed his tendencies was one day after a heavy sign, which had projected over the street, fell as he was walking along and struck him on the head. As soon as he regained consciousness he seemed to be a poet."—New York Times.

IN OGLE COUNTY.

A late dispatch from Chicago Saturday night stated that Lowden had carried the Ogle county primaries by a very small majority, but exact figures were not obtainable.

In the five townships where primaries were held Friday Yates received 206 votes and Lowden 172. While Governor Yates has apparently carried all the five townships he has the delegates from only two of them. In Ogle county there is a rule that the county goes to the candidate who secures the most votes in the primary, but it can easily happen that the will of the majority would not be carried out because one of the low candidates might have the delegates from a majority of the townships. Thus Lowden might carry twenty-eight of the townships by one vote each. Yates might get the twenty-ninth township by thirty votes. Under rules Yates having a majority of the total vote cast in the county would be entitled to the county, but in the county convention Lowden would have the delegates from twenty-eight towns and Yates from only one. Yates has a majority of the vote cast Friday, but he will have the delegates from only two of the townships. If this ratio is maintained Lowden will have a majority of the delegates in the county convention though Yates may have a majority of the votes in the primaries.

WINTER PICNIC.

Something unusual in the entertainment line took place at the Woman's college Saturday evening. Ten sophomores gave a delightful winter picnic in honor of the senior class. The gymnasium bloomed with pink roses and the summer house, the hammocks, the rustic seats and perhaps best of all the rope swing made one forget it was January without. The sophomores, the gentlemen of the occasion, were extremely attentive to the ladies and left nothing undone which would add to the enjoyment of the evening. Many pleasant games made the time pass all too rapidly until the delicious refreshments were served and then after several flash light pictures were taken everyone took their leave, certainly voting the sophomores the most original and most delightful of hostesses.

FOR SICK AND NERVOUS PEOPLE.

We have a cure for nervous and steady people, weak, fleshless people, and pimple, pale or sallow people; people who are troubled with loss of ambition, failing memory, depression of spirits, lack of confidence, nervous headache and wakefulness, all these symptoms are produced by weak nerves brought on by the watery condition of the blood. Make strong, rich red blood, and furnish food for the nerves is the way to stop the source of disease, and cure them is only a question of days. The best flesh and food builder is Dr. Gunn's Blood and Nerve Tonic, in tablet form to take at meal time. Sells at 75c a box or three boxes for $2, at all druggists. People gain from 1 to 3 pounds of solid healthy flesh per week, by the use of this medicine. This is an indication that it is doing good. Lee P. Alcott, Druggist, east side square.

THE FUTURE OF RADIUM

Curie's Forecast For the Newly Discovered Force.

ITS POTENTIALITY WONDERFUL.

French Scientist Says He Can Conceive a Radium Cannon Firing Electric Shocks Great Distances With Deadly Effect—Possibilities of the Pure Product Indefinite.

M. Curie of Paris, the discoverer of radium, predicts the future of the new chemical as follows in the New York World:

It is quite difficult to predict the future of radium, but I believe its great field will be the domain of medicine rather than in warfare and commerce. A physician with a tenth of a gram of radium could receive an unlimited number of patients and effect cure after cure in cases of lupus and, above all, of cancerous affections.

The scope of radium is naturally affected by its enormous cost, as an ounce is worth a king's ransom—$30,000. Recently, however, I received a communication from a firm in Buffalo, N. Y., claiming to have a new process for extracting radium from uranium, which will cheapen the article.

Radium might be a factor in warfare in the way of producing explosions in a magazine, causing the disappearance of the ship and the entire ship's company. But radium is dangerous rather than against individuals than objects. A tenth of a gram left contiguous to a person is capable of producing complete paralysis. For this reason it might prove a dangerous medium in causing crime which would defy detection if it ever became as easily obtained as other chemicals. It is also dangerous to bring a tenth of a gram into contact with a highly charged electric battery, because a sudden explosion is certain.

At first we hoped that the blind would be benefited by it, for a particle of radium enclosed in a box, placed on the forehead, conveys a sensation of light to the eye, but we found it did not enable the blind person to distinguish objects. So far we have only used radium salts, and in minute quantities, yet the remarkable results produced show that the possibilities of the pure product are indefinite.

A man entering a room where there is a pound of pure radium would perish, but there is no fear of this, as only radium salts are yet obtainable from the barium found in Bohemia, called pitchblende, of which a ton often yields less than a gramme of radium salt. Already the mineral of Joachimsthal, which gave my wife and myself our first material, is exhausted, and only a discovery of a veritable Klondike of radium will demonstrate the wonderful force of this chemical so little understood even today by the most ardent investigators.

Before doing what Professor Gustave Lebon has predicted, the blowing up of magazines, forts, and arsenals in the enemy's country by using a small tube of radium, we shall have to find the requisite amount of pure radium. Its potentiality is wonderful, and I can even conceive a radium cannon projecting electric shocks great distances with deadly effect.

THE PRESIDENT'S FIST.

Surprise That It Gave a Western Bully.

"In all Mr. Roosevelt's life on the frontier," says Jacob Riss, writing about the president in the Outlook, "he was molested only once and then by a drunken rowdy who took him for a tenderfoot and with a curse bade him treat at the point of his two revolvers, enforcing the invitation with a little exhibition of 'gun play,' while a roomful of men looked stolidly on. Roosevelt was a stranger in the town and had no friends there. He got up apparently to yield to the inevitable, practicing over mentally the while a famous left hander that had done execution in the old Harvard days.

"The next instant the bully crashed against the wall and measured his length on the floor. His pistols went off harmlessly in the air. He opened his eyes to find the 'four eyed tenderfoot' standing over him bristling with fight, while the crowd nodded calmly, 'Served him right.' He surrendered then and there and gave up his guns, while Mr. Roosevelt went to bed unmolested. Such things carry far on the plains. No one was ever after that heard to express a wish to fill this tenderfoot 'full of holes,' even though he did wear gold spectacles and fringed angora 'chaps.'"

Flower Muffs For Bridesmaids.

The first society leader in England to introduce the new fashion of muffs for winter bridesmaids will be Lady Marjorie Greville, who is to marry Lord Helmsley, says a London dispatch to the New York American. Lady Marjorie's bridesmaids are going to carry large white flower muffs, the gift of the bridegroom, instead of bouquets. This new departure in the accessories of bridesmaids' toilets comes as a boon and a blessing to the chilly fingered damsel this winter weather, for the flowers are fixed on a foundation, into which a serviceable muff of velvet or fur is slipped.

January.

The cold sky bends in a solemn bow Over a world of stainless snow. In chill brown lines the hedges creep Past sheltered farms to forests deep. The steel blue ice, wind swept and clear, Covers the vastness of the lonely mere. In cedar thickets the blue jays scold, While snowbirds whirl through the birch trees cold. And tiny, timid, hasty print On white drift gives of hares a hint. —Sara Andrew Shafat in Outlook for January.

The Belles Lettres society will give a play in the college chapel Monday evening.

Dr. Morey was present at morning chapel Saturday, conducting the devotional exercises and giving a helpful talk. Miss Frances Wakely and Miss Fay Dunlap, graduate students of the School of Fine Arts, have resumed work in the studio.

The chapel essays the past week have been very interesting and give good evidence of the excellent work going on in the English department. Subjects and readers have been as follows: Tuesday, "Old English Plays," Olive Mathis; Wednesday, "Our Attitude Toward the Negro," Mae Seymour; Thursday, "Comments on the Negro Question," Anne White; Friday, "The Legend of the Holy Grail in Literature," Winifred Palmer.

Next Thursday, Jan. 28, is the annual Day of Prayer for Colleges. On that day throughout the United States special exercises are held in Christian colleges and special prayers are offered that all students may consecrate their lives to Christ.

At the Woman's college there will be a public sermon at 10:30, preached by Dr. M. L. Curl, pastor of the Dr. Fry Memorial church in St. Louis. In the afternoon at 2:30 there will be a public evangelistic meeting conducted by Dr. Scrimger, presiding elder of the Jacksonville district. A cordial invitation is extended to all friends to be present at these meetings.

D. H. BARKER

SHERIFF OF CHATTANOOGA, TENN.

Another Prominent Man, Finds in Vinol the Only Cure for Stomach Trouble.

Hon. D. H. Barker, deputy sheriff of Chattanooga, Tenn., writes: "As I have suffered for years with dyspepsia and stomach troubles and Vinol has driven that dreaded disease from my system, I am only too pleased to state my experience for the benefit of others. My system became so enfeebled by indigestion that I was unable to work half the time. Many remedies were given a trial, but Vinol was the only medicine that benefited and finally cured me completely. I am so grateful to be rid of this trouble that I trust this testimonial will come to the eyes of other sufferers who may be benefited as I have been by Vinol."

What Vinol did for Mr. Barker, our druggist, Mr. L. P. Alcott, of this city, guarantees it will do for every person in Jacksonville suffering from a tired, overtaxed or worn out stomach which cannot properly digest food.

HON. D. H. BARKER.

Through the digestive organs the blood receives its body building material and strength and vigor is given to every organ in the body. Vinol strengthens and tones up the weakened nerves of the stomach and soon enables the sufferer to digest with ease the very foods that once caused distress.

Vinol contains no drugs and no nauseating oil, but it does contain the vital principles of cod liver oil which will heal and tone up irritated, worn, tired stomachs.

If any person in Jacksonville tries Vinol for stomach troubles, for a rundown, debilitated condition, to give strength to the weak, to gain flesh, to invigorate old people to make rich, red blood, and build up the convalescent, to cure hard colds, stubborn coughs or bronchitis, and it fails to give satisfaction, I will refund the money paid for it. Lee P. Alcott, druggist.

Twenty-Second Annual Sale

HOUSEKEEPING LINENS

Began Monday, Jan'y 18th, and Continues Until Feb. 1

Our January Sales increase in importance every year—it would be unnatural if it were otherwise. Every experience and every achievement make it possible to go further. What was considered well nigh perfection last year has been found to be but one of the milestones along the way. The past twelve months' thoughtful work in the light of the experience of former years could only surpass previous efforts. Progress in merchandising means better assortments, better materials, better designs, larger operations and more attractive prices. It is no idle claim that these have been embodied in our January sales preparations.

Only undisputed merit could induce the ever increasing popularity of these sales.

The Great Annual Linen Sale of 1904 extends to the public unprecedented and heretofore unheard-of opportunities for the purchase of Table Linens, Towels, Towelings, Table Cloths, Matched Sets and Napkins. As rapid, immense gains have been made in each year's sales, so the purchases for each succeeding year have been larger and the price concessions greater and still greater, until this year, this sale more emphatically than ever before offers the maximum of quality at the very lowest unequaled price.

IN TABLE LINENS, to the most successful of last season's patterns great numbers of new and original designs have been added, affording a range such as will enable all to choose to their greatest satisfaction. $5,000 worth of new linens to choose from. See our wonderfully low cut prices for this sale.

MAY LOSE SHOPS

Bloomington Pears C. & A.
Works Will Go Elsewhere.

There is consternation in Bloomington. The Chicago & Alton Railway company has cut off negotiations for the retention of the big shops in that city and everything indicates their removal to another point. The citizens refused to believe that the company would ever move the shops and met the proposition of the company with a lot of counter proposals. It seems the company knew what it wanted and needed when it made its first offer to the city, but the city evidently thought the company did not know what it was about. The result has been a year of haggling and negotiating. A few years ago the city sent in a second proposition modifying a former one.

Friday the council received a telegram from President Felton turning down the offer and withdrawing his. The opinion prevails that the company has severed the cord that binds it to Bloomington and that there is no hope left. The shops will probably be moved to a point four miles north of Bloomington where land has been secured and large yards laid out. The site is a short distance above Normal, the first station north of Bloomington.

PROGRESSIVE DINNER PARTY

Members of Fortnightly Club
Entertain Guests at Home of Mr. and Mrs. W. T.
Wilson.

The Fortnightly club, one of the most progressive literary organizations of Jacksonville, were most delightful entertained Saturday evening at the charming home of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Wilson on West State street. It was an open meeting of the club and the gentlemen were invited to meet with the ladies and enjoy the pleasures of a progressive dinner party.

The guests arrived at 6 o'clock and were received by the host and hostess and Miss Laura White, president of the Fortnightly club, with a most cordial hospitality. The decorations were bright and tasteful and smilax, ferns and carnations were used with artistic effect.

The guests were seated by means of cards, the gentlemen receiving questions and the ladies answers. There were thirteen tables and an elaborate menu of nine courses was splendidly served. Snap caps were passed after the last course and afforded a great deal of merriment. After the dinner an hour was very pleasantly spent in a social manner and the evening was one of the most delightful functions of the mid-winter season.

The committee who had the arrangements in charge for the open meeting consisted of Mrs. Helen Jordan, Mrs. Frank Read, Jr., and Mrs. E. P. Cleary, and if the success of their efforts was as gratifying to themselves as it certainly was to the members and their guests, they have every cause for congratulation.

AT THE GRAND.

A capable company of players presented Augustus Thomas' "Arizona" before a large audience at the Grand last night. The play is of the same type known through "Missouri" and "Alabama" from the pen of Mr. Thomas and gives a very truthful picture of military life on the western frontier. A strong love story runs through the four acts and there are lines of humor and lines of patriotism. The whole story is one which thrills and interests and the audience was very enthusiastic last night. The scenery used is especially rich, several of the scenes having been painted from sketches taken in Arizona especially for the purpose. "Arizona" is certainly sumptuously staged. Mr. Frederick Watson is an actor whose unusual capability is evident continuously during the action of the play and his talent is certainly a combination of strength and delicacy. His support was in the main satisfactory.

ART CLUB.

The ladies of the Art club met in their regular session at the home of Mrs. Jerome Rollins. The program was opened with song by the society; select reading by Mrs. Lida Moore; vocal solo by Mrs. E. D. Hayden; paper by Mrs. Harris, "The Art of Blending"; instrumental solo by Mrs. Dealy; address by Mrs. M. C. Clark; "How to Entertain the Art Club," by the president, Mrs. Frank Simpson. Light refreshments were served. The club adjourned to meet with Mrs. Sherman Spencer. Mrs. Frank Simpson, Pres. Mrs. William Dabney, Sec.

GEORGE FRANCIS TRAIN'S CAREER

Shipping clerk, 16; manager, 18; partner in Train & Co., 20, with an income of $10,000.

Established firm of George Francis Train & Co., Melbourne, Australia, in 1853; agent White Star line, income $90,000.

Started forty clippers to California in 1849.

Built railroad connecting Erie with Ohio and Mississippi.

Pioneered the first street railway in Europe, America, Australia and England.

Built first Pacific railway, 1862-1896, through Credit Mobilier.

Owned 5,000 lots in Omaha worth $3,000,000.

Been in fifteen jails without a crime.

Mr. Train's parents with several brothers and sisters, died at New Orleans from yellow fever, and his childhood home was on his grandmother's farm in Massachusetts. Not long after entering the Boston shipping house, founded by his cousin, he went abroad, and from that time on he wandered all over the globe.

In 1873 he began a career as a lecturer and agitator and held public debates with some of the ablest debaters in the country. A few years ago he made a trip around the world in sixty days, saying afterward that "psychic force" enabled him to overcome all obstacles.

One of the features of his eventful life was his admiration for children and for years a familiar spectacle in Madison Square garden was "Citizen" Train on a bench surrounded by a group of little ones.

Mr. Train's last adventure occurred last summer, when he was quarantined at Stamford, Conn., in a small pox isolation camp, and threatened that city with a suit for $50,000 damages. He was the author of at least forty books, and frequently asserted that his "psychic power" eventually would make him the most potent sovereign of the earth.

Train died of heart disease caused by nephritis.

Mr. Train lived on the top story of the Mill's hotel in a little room, possibly eight feet long and six feet wide. There "Citizen" Train entertained many noted visitors.

No matter whatever else his graciousness or kindness led him to do Mr. Train did not up to the time of his death consent to shake the hand of man or woman. For fourteen years he would not speak to man or woman. Children he loved and adored. He believed that old people absorbed from children what he called psychic force, especially the stronger ones from the weaker.

There has been no character like George Francis Train. He was a wonderful combination of egotism and ideas upon social questions.

A LIFE AT STAKE.

If you but knew the splendid merit of Foley's Honey and Tar you would never be without it. A dose or two will prevent an attack of pneumonia or la grippe. It may save your life. Sold by J. A. Obermeyer, City drug store.

ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY.

Jan. 23, 1904.

Editor Jacksonville Journal: Dear Sir—Will you kindly permit me to say through your paper to the Republican voters of this county and state that I am a candidate for the nomination for the office of state treasurer at the hands of the Republican state convention to be held some time in the near future. I also respectfully request that the Republicans of this county consider my name in this connection at our local primaries soon to be held.

Respectfully,

Chas. S. Rannels.

THE TRAVELER'S DELIGHT.

The traveler's delight is now in sight. To those who go our way. The J. & T. L. will treat you right. And at Chapin you need not stay.

The Concord branch will be complete. And connections immediately made. A route and arrangement no competitor can meet. When the rails have all been laid.

That part of your life which has been lost. At Chapin awaiting a train. Can be regained with no more cost. And friendship we will gain.

Now when we start to operate. The Jacksonville & Concord line. We will give you something up-to-date. And certainly save your time.

Mr. E. W. Flanagan, traveling passenger agent for the J. & St. L., in a moment of poetic fancy produced the lines above. They will appeal especially to traveling men, who for years have suffered the pains of long waits at Chapin. The story of the salesman who said he had been on the road ten years and had spent seven of them at Chapin is well known and numerous others have had similar experience. To all these Mr. Flanagan's lines will appeal, and the verses will certainly become celebrated.

GOOD WORK.

The quarterly conference of the Alexander-Literberry M. E. circuit was held Saturday afternoon in Centenary church in this city and reports from the various stations were heard and in general the conditions mentioned were encouraging, showing a healthy state of affairs and good work being done by the faithful young pastor, Rev. Arthur Ewert, of this place. The preaching stations are New Berlin, Alexander, Literberry, Arcadia, Union and Zion, north of Arcadia. Rev. Joseph Winterbottom was placed in charge of this field with Mr. Ewert as assistant, but the health of the former having failed he is unable to do any work, much to the regret of his parishioners and himself, but all are fortunate in having such capable young shoulders on which to place the burden.
